Description

Antique Roman Plewkiewicz & Co silver-plated basket with cobalt blue glass liner (c. 1900) A fine late 19th- to early 20th-century silver-plated table basket by Roman Plewkiewicz & Co, featuring a deeply cast openwork mount with intricate Rococo Revival and Neoclassical ornamentation. The pierced frame is decorated with garland swags of flowers and fruit, suspended by ribbon-tied motifs between trellis latticework panels. The richly moulded structure is raised on four ornate scrolled rocaille feet and fitted with a swing handle detailed with classical beaded borders. The removable liner is made of deep sapphire blue glass with a scalloped rim, complementing the elaborate silver-plated mount beautifully. Ideal for use as a table centrepiece, bonbon basket, bread basket, or for fruit service.
