PROANTIC
LE PLUS BEAU CATALOGUE D'ANTIQUITES

James I Seal Top Spoon London 1612 By Daniel Cary

3 420 EUR

Period : 17th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Silver metal

Description

James I Seal Top Spoon London 1612 by Daniel CaryWeight: 54.6Seller Notes: The seller notes that the item is "In Good Antique Condition." It is advised for potential buyers to refer to all the provided pictures to fully assess the item's condition.Composition: The item is made from Solid Silver, indicating a high quality and durable material.Antique: This is an authentic antique piece, adding a significant historic value and charm to the item.Material: The item is made of Solid Silver, further reinforcing its quality and timeless appeal.Brand: The item is a product of Daniel Cary, a brand known for its craftsmanship and quality products.Pattern: The item follows the James I pattern, giving it a specific and unique style that reflects the design aesthetics of that era.Product: This is a Spoon, an everyday object

Dealer

Bushells Antiques

Antiques and Jewellery

Mobile : +447956268290

71-75 Shelton Street

Covent Garden WC2H

transformed into a piece of art through its antique design and solid silver material.Style: The style of the item is Antique, showcasing the craftsmanship and design sensibilities of a bygone era.Age: The item dates back to Pre-1800, making it a significant historical artifact that has withstood the test of time.Product Description: This Antique Solid Silver Spoon by Daniel Cary is a remarkable piece of history. Following the James I pattern, the spoon is a testament to the skilled craftsmanship of the pre-1800 era. Despite its age, it is in good antique condition as noted by the seller. Its solid silver composition adds to its timeless charm and value.