Description

Rectangular hinged 18-carat gold box with two compartments and a frosted mirror. The lid features a small painting centered on an oval from which radiates a bundle of oblique lines. The whole is bordered by a frieze of acanthus leaves alternating on each corner with a larger leaf. The same decoration for the base without the central medallion with a radiation of oblique bundles oriented in a corner of the frame. The sides are striated with sinusoidal bands. On one side a small plant motif in a circle recalls the central medallion. Head of a Greek doctor in a hexagon and number 3, Paris 1838-1919. Chips on the border of the mirror and scratches on the base. Weight: 86 g (3 oz)LEARN MORE
