Description

Pair of biscuit sculptures representing eagles. Work from the second half of the 19th century, bearing the incised mark "Mre. Imple. de Sèvres" (not guaranteed). Important pair of biscuit porcelain eagles, depicted as pendants, their wings slightly spread, standing on a circular base. The abundant plumage is rendered with great attention to detail, characteristic of productions inspired by the imperial style. The two subjects face each other, in a hieratic attitude, evoking allegories of power and vigilance... Read more Very good overall condition. Slight handling marks on the bases, some traces of old metal mountings visible under the plinths. No apparent restoration. LEARN MORE
