Indépendants from 1926 to 1939, at the Salon des Tuileries from 1930 to 1935, and at the Salon des Artistes Indépendants Bordelais in 1934. As France expanded at that time on both sides of the Mediterranean, he settled in Tunisia and turned to the Orientalist style. He joined the École des Beaux-Arts in Tunis as a professor and then director, succeeding the first two directors: Pierre Boyer and Jean Antoine Armand Vergeaud; his successor was Safia Farhat. An Angevin at heart, he illustrated works such as the book Sur l'air Angevin. 50 popular songs collected in Anjou by Marc Leclerc published in 1947 by La Lyre Chansonnière in Paris
