Description

Rectangular console table in brushed steel. Guy Lefèvre for Maison Jansen Tinted glass top. Work from the 1970s Used condition Guy Lefèvre is known for having worked for the French brand Maison Jansen, for which he designed chrome-plated steel furniture in the 1960s. He also collaborated with brands such as Knoll, Steiner and Artifort. His creations are characterized by a refined aesthetic, marked by the use of modern materials such as metal, glass and leather. In particular, he created armchairs and sofas with simple and elegant lines, which were very successful in the 1970s. Guy Lefèvre received numerous awards and distinctions throughout his career, including the Grand Prix National de la Création Industrielle in 1982. He is considered one of the great French designers of
