fashioned from cedar wood. The artist, in his brutalist approach, has captured the essence of the human body while respecting the material, enhancing its natural veins and textures. The oak base contrasts beautifully with the sensuality and fluidity of the female body's forms, thus reinforcing the visual impact and solidity of the work. Condition: The work is in good overall condition, with a natural patina that testifies to its authenticity and age. It is important to note that, as a work carved from raw materials, natural imperfections and marks of the period highlight the unique character of this piece. A Unique Piece: This sculpture is a true masterpiece of Brutalism, combining the power of the human form with the raw beauty of wood. It will find its place in a contemporary art collection or in an exhibition space seeking pieces of character.
