During the Civil War, he had to reduce his production due to his health, but he continued to work after the end of the war. His work has been awarded several prizes (the unique medal of the Chicago World's Fair in 1933, the Medal of Honor of the National Exhibition of Fine Arts of Spain in 1934, the Grand Cross of Alfonso X the Wise, etc.) and is found in important private collections as well as in institutions such as his own museum in Burgos (the Monastery of San Juan), the Museum of the Royal Academy of Fine Arts of San Fernando in Madrid, the Museum of Modern Art in Barcelona, etc. Although he was highly regarded for his portraits, he is also known for his Castilian landscapes. This painting depicts a landscape of Valdelateja, a town in the province of Burgos located in the Páramos region, and was published in issue 589 of the magazine La Esfera, under the title "Castilian Landscapes" and with the title "A Corner of Valdelateja (Burgos)". - Dimensions: 87.5x6x108 cm. interior: 70x90 cm
