Description

Large serving tray with 4 handles with shell motif. The edge of the molded tray is reinforced by a decorated overlay. The surface is entirely decorated with scrolls, acanthus leaves etc... made by hammering with a tool. The metal is not marked with a title or goldsmith's hallmark (alloy?) but has a silver finish. The workmanship is careful, indicating a sign of quality for a tray with an unusual size, the manufacture of which required good technical skill. The tray is in good condition and its aesthetic qualities can also allow it to be used as a decorative element. POSSIBLE SHIPPING, careful reinforced packaging, registered with signature, insurance and tracking on the internet by its number (flat rate shipping costs).
