Description

Rare large painting by Cesar Alexandre FORMENTI (1874-1944) depicting a view of the sea from the "Pedra do Arpoador", Arpoador Rock in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. Arpoador is a residential neighborhood in the city of Rio de Janeiro, located on the seafront, where the Ipanema and Copacabana neighborhoods meet. It takes its name from the Pedra do Arpoador, a rocky promontory that marks the beginning of Ipanema Beach. The name of this neighborhood comes from the fishing populations originally living there and who practiced harpoon fishing from the promontory. The term "arpoador" means "the one who harpoons" in Portuguese. WIKIPEDIA: <https://fr.wikipedia.org/wiki/Arpoador> Signed located and dated 1913 lower right and located more precisely on the
