Description

A pair of large Satsuma vases signed Kinkozan, decorated with scenes inspired by Japanese imperial tradition, rendered with great precision and raised gold detailing. One side of each vase depicts the legendary Emperor Jinmu, surrounded by attendants in a solemn, ceremonial composition. The opposite side features Empress Jingu--who, during the Meiji era, came to symbolize female imperial power--as suggested by the phoenix on the hanging kimono, a traditional emblem of sovereign female authority. Both vases are signed Kinkozan on the underside. Period: Meiji, circa 1900 Dimensions: 46 x 22.5 cm Condition: Excellent condition
