Description

Chinese Sanghai rug made entirely of tencel silk with geometric patterns. The hand-woven Shanghai rug represents the epitome of craftsmanship. During the weaving process, each pile of the rug is hand-dyed and cut to create a beautiful shimmering and nuanced effect, resulting in an exclusive rug that reflects light. Tencel, also known as lyocell, is an eco-friendly material produced from wood pulp. Tencel is highly valued in textiles because it is a breathable and durable fabric, comparable to silk. This timeless, soft rug (made entirely of silk) with its attractive colors will enhance your interior. Size : 300x200 cm Condition : Wear to the silk pile as well as very slight visible soiling, uneven fringes Throughout the rug, you will notice color differences due to the tencel silk,
