Description

coffee or side table in rosewood veneer, typical of the Art Deco period, circa 1930. The rectangular top, with a beautiful warm patina, pivots to reveal an interior storage compartment, combining formal elegance and functionality. The structure rests on two curved inverted U-shaped legs, connected by a chromed metal crosspiece, a characteristic detail of modernist furniture of the time. This marriage of precious wood and metal underlines the luxurious but rational aesthetic of the Art Deco style, in the spirit of designers such as Dominique, Ruhlmann or Leleu. wear from use, sold as is. Open length: 110 cm Closed length: 55 cm
