

Large Pair 19th Century Josiah Williams & Co Silver Pierced Vases W/glass Liners

930 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Silver metal

Description

This pair of 19th-century silver pierced vases by Josiah Williams & Co is a wonderful representation of Victorian-era craftsmanship. Created by the renowned silversmiths George Maudsley Jackson and David Landsborough Fullerton, these vases showcase intricate design and superior quality. The vases feature a delicate pierced silver design, allowing light to play through the patterns and creating a striking visual effect. This openwork technique not only enhances their aesthetic appeal but also demonstrates the high level of skill involved in their creation. Each vase includes a clear glass insert, providing a practical and elegant solution for holding flowers or other decorative elements without compromising the silver's integrity. Measuring 19 cm in height and 10 cm in

Dealer

Bushells Antiques

Antiques and Jewellery

Mobile : +447956268290

71-75 Shelton Street

Covent Garden WC2H

diameter, these vases are a perfect size for display on a mantle, sideboard, or as a centerpiece. The combination of silver and clear glass allows these vases to complement a variety of decor styles, from traditional to contemporary. These vases are perfect for collectors of antique silver or anyone looking to add a touch of elegance and history to their home. Their intricate design and historical significance make them a valuable addition to any collection, offering both beauty and functionality.