Description

This good quality pair of early 20th-century Edwardian period brown leather Chesterfield slipper armchairs features deep buttoned leather upholstery on both the back and seat. The chairs are equipped with leather arm supports and a solid mahogany frame, ensuring durability and elegance. The attractive scrolled arms come with upholstered elbow rests, while the backrest and seat are gracefully curved and upholstered in the same rich brown leather. Brass studding adorns the padded and buttoned leather arms, complemented by beautifully carved fan supports on arched legs. The brown leather hide has been thoroughly cleaned and polished, giving it a lovely soft and sumptuous feel. With a seat height of 38 cm, these chairs are in very good condition and offer exceptional comfort, making them a
