Description

Fascinating artistic ceramic centerpiece, signed Alfio, featuring a very distinctive double face: one side displays an organic form with raised floral decorations and a craquelé finish, while the other side is shaped to depict a stylized human face, enhanced by vivid colors and iridescent glazes.

The craquelé ceramic surface lends an antique, textured effect, while the color palette -- ranging from ivory white to turquoise, with golden highlights and reddish shades -- enriches the overall appearance. This piece was likely created between the late 20th century and early 21st century, combining traditional craftsmanship with modern artistic sensibility.
