Description

Sinclair (19th/20th century): "Sewing by the Hearth", pictorialist silver photograph 23.8 X 29 cm, circa 1900, bearing the dry stamps "Sinclair Kirkland" and "Copyright". Mounted on cardboard, small peripheral accidents from an old disassembly, a light trace of product at the bottom left. This superb print, with deep but not blocked blacks, is reminiscent of Scottish painters of the same period, shows us a young woman sewing by the fire, her large dog lying at her feet. Do not hesitate to ask us for photos or additional information by email or phone. Other photos and many other objects in our shops in Pau and Biarritz and on our website: galerielhoste.com.
