Description

This Jaeger-LeCoultre mantel clock is a beautiful example of vintage craftsmanship and design. The clock features a classic oval shape with a brass frame, finished in gold, giving it a timeless and elegant appearance. Its analogue display uses Roman numerals, adding to its vintage charm. The clock is identified as model 5924 and measures 23.5 cm in height, 18.5 cm in length, and 12.5 cm in width, making it a substantial piece for display on a mantel or shelf. Weighing 4535 grams, it has a solid and durable build. This clock operates with a mechanical movement and includes features such as a 12-hour display, pendulum/moving parts, and a self-winding mechanism, all typical of Jaeger-LeCoultre's attention to detail and quality engineering. In terms of condition, the clock is noted to be in good vintage condition,
