Description

W. Ziller (XIX-XX) - View of Venice Oil on canvas - Hand signed W.ZILLER View of Venice Oil on canvas, Signed lower left Dimensions: H. 23 cm - W. 33 cm HVS This oil painting depicts a picturesque scene of Venice, capturing the vibrant atmosphere of the lagoon. In the foreground, a Venetian gondola is seen gliding peacefully across the water, occupied by figures. To the right, three sailing boats with lively sails are moored or approaching, adding a maritime dynamic to the composition. In the background, the iconic silhouette of Venice rises, with a likely view of St. Mark's Campanile, bathed in a soft light that accentuates the golden reflections on the water. Color palette o Sky: Shades of light blue, with touches of pinkish white that suggest a slightly cloudy sky or late afternoon light. Water:

Subtle reflections of blue, green, gold and orange, which translate the shimmering of the sky and the sails. o Sails: Dominated by warm hues - golden yellow and vermillion red - which contrast nicely with the blue of the sky. o Architecture: Venetian buildings in pastel and ochre tones, bringing warmth and depth to the scene. Vegetation: To the right, an autumnal tree in shades of green, ochre and brown accentuates the chromatic balance. The frame The frame is particularly remarkable: Style: Rococo/Baroque, richly ornamented, typical of 19th-century ceremonial frames. Material and finish: Gold leaf, probably carved wood covered with gesso, very worked with floral motifs, scrolls and shells. o Condition: Well preserved, with an elegant patina that underlines the historical character
