

Important Bronze Sculpture Diana The Huntress (barbedienne & Collas)

4 500 EUR

Signature : Barbedienne & Collas

Period : 19th century

Condition : Etat d'usage

Material : Bronze

Length : 50cm

Height : 80cm

Depth : 35cm

Description

Important Bronze Sculpture "Diana the Huntress" Important patinated bronze sculpture representing "Diana the Huntress" Goddess of the hunt, war, and the night in Roman mythology. Diana (Artemis to the Greeks), while walking, holds a small deer by the antlers in her left hand and grabs an arrow from her quiver which she carries slung over her back with the other. Diana wears a tunic, sandals, and a diadem, her wavy hair tied at the nape of her neck. Stamped "Réduction mécanique A. Collas" and signed "F. Barbedienne Fondateur" A Roman marble copy of "Diana the Huntress" or "Diana of Versailles," from the Imperial period (2nd century AD) resides in the Louvre Museum. The Greek bronze original was made in the 4th century BC. 1000 BC It is generally attributed to the Athenian

Dealer

Antiquités & Art d'Asie

Achat-Expertise-Conseil

Mobile : 06.42.77.90.30

29 bis, rue Delsaux et 2, rue des Ursulines

Valenciennes 59300

sculptor Leokares. The Barbedienne company, founded in 1834 by Ferdinand Barbedienne (1810-1892), is considered one of the greatest bronze art companies in 19th-century France. 19th century period Circa: 1870 Good overall condition. Height: 80cm Length: 50cm Depth: 35cm