Description

Palladian Villa with Three Putti, Oil on Canvas
Signed and Dated 1866. Charming oil on canvas dated 1866 and signed Silvie de Tommaso in red on the base of the Medici vase. It is a beautiful, very colorful scene depicting 4 putti busy playing near a Medici vase in the gardens of a Palladian villa. The scene is very nicely painted and full of color and liveliness. We see 4 putti having fun making a ladder on a large Medici vase decorated with neoclassical bas-relief. The scene takes place in the gardens of a large Palladian villa painted in the background and whose stairs are decorated with large monumental statues. We can see a fountain, rose bushes, flowers. All painted with great freshness and superb colors. The scene is placed in a large oval. It is framed in a beautiful wooden frame and gilded stucco with decoration of palmette spandrels. The whole is very lively, very lively. A very beautiful Italian painting from the middle of the 19th century, in very good condition and very decorative. We have carried out research on the author of this painting but without success, perhaps an amateur painter who knows her art very well. If you find information to give me, do not hesitate. Dimensions: 50 cm and 63 cm with the frame for the width and for the height 60 cm high and 73 cm with the frame. We deliver and ship all over the world, please contact us for a precise quote.
