Description

Rare and pretty pair of orange tree tubs in cast iron and wooden panels. The cast iron uprights are decorated with orange tree branches and oranges in the round, faithfully represented with their "orange peel" appearance. They are connected to each other by an interior cast iron tray with zooform hooks visible on the bottom and by a metal ribbon with staples at the top. The whole, entirely restored in our workshops, is in perfect condition. Beautiful work from the beginning of the 20th century!
