Description

Very Fine Victorian Mahogany and Bronze Music Stand From the 19th Century. An original musician's music stand in very good condition. English brand and dating from the end of the 19th century, it is fully articulated and adjustable and has a light arm whose glass has been lost. The cast iron base is decorated with floral motifs and is very heavy, it supports the finely chiseled bronze foot with ribboned floral motifs adjustable in height at its top. There is a beautiful circular molded top with a bowl in solid mahogany at mid-height in the center of which is housed the sliding brass foot which supports the mahogany music stand part and the lighting part on two brass axes themselves adjustable. The whole is in very good condition, working correctly and stable. It has an enameled manufacturer's plaque
