Description

A fine chandelier in metal and crystal by the prestigious Maison BAGUÈS, Paris. The gilt wrought iron frame unfolds into six scrolling light arms, each adorned with a bobeche supporting a candle socket. Twisting vegetal garlands set with crystal leaves embellish the arms. The base is formed by a bouquet of foliage culminating in a large faceted crystal sphere. All metal elements are gilded with gold leaf over a red bole and patinated for depth.Its nine-link chain, also gilded and patinated, and its original ceiling canopy complete the piece.Dimensions:Height: 64 cmDiameter: 68 cmThis model is still available from Maison Baguès by special order.France, 20th centuryRefined and emblematic of French craftsmanship, this six-light chandelier is a creation of Maison Baguès, the celebrated

Parisian firm founded in 1860 and renowned for its exceptional lighting. Handmade in the company's Normandy workshops, the model combines a gold leaf-gilded wrought iron structure with a naturalistic decor of leaves and crystal drops.The six gracefully curved arms, each embellished with delicate bobeches and finely wrought foliage, rise around a central vegetal bouquet. The design strikes a perfect balance between ornamental tradition and contemporary elegance. A large faceted crystal ball anchors the base of the composition, lending the piece visual lightness. This chandelier suits both classical and modern interiors alike.
