Description

Bohemian crystal chandelier with 12 lights, white opaline candles with E14 lamp holders. The chandelier was built around the mid-20th century using antique components: the 12 arms date back to the 19th century and are made of solid crystal, so the electrification runs externally to the arms; likewise, the large mirrored cups inside also date from the 19th century. One of the drops has a small chip (see last photo), but apart from this defect, the chandelier is in excellent condition and has been recently restored. The chandelier will be shipped on a pallet, disassembled, carefully packed, and properly protected. Here are some measurements: Total height: 95 cm Diameter: 75 cm Diameter of small cups: 10 cm Diameter of lower cup: 30 cm, upper cup: 16 cm Length of prisms hanging from the small cups: 7.5
