Description

Rare cabinet or display case for ceramics, glassware, bronzes and books, which can be used as a bookcase. Biedermeier inspiration for this beautiful piece of furniture, late 19th century Austrian work, in mahogany, inlaid with geometric decorations in bronze, maple, ebony and mother-of-pearl. The two doors with beveled glass edged with brass threads are made using the stained glass technique. A mirror set with a frieze of bronze water leaves serves as a background for a semi-circular podium base and forms a presentation theater. The piece of furniture is structured by a layering of columns, a pair of three small columns in the upper part, superimposing a pair of double columns in the lower space. Beautiful proportions and good condition for an aesthetic, original and perfectly
