Description

General de Gaulle on the March - Original Signed Lithograph Superb original lithograph depicting General Charles de Gaulle walking alone in a barren winter landscape. The artist has captured the General's iconic stature and strength of character, placing him on a winding path in the heart of an undergrowth of tall, bare trees. This scene exudes an atmosphere of gravity and meditation, symbolizing the solitude of power and the exceptional destiny of this historical figure. The work is enhanced with gouache in sober tones of brown and black, accentuating the timeless and solemn character of the subject. The composition combines precise and expressive drawing with delicate work on material and light Original lithograph enhanced with gouache Signed lower right: Numbered: 224/300
