Imposing octagonal mirror with parecloses, framed with rich ornamentation in finely chiseled gilt bronze in the Baroque style. The frame is decorated with foliage, shell and volute motifs, with corners reinforced by rocaille elements. The central mirror is surrounded by beveled secondary mirrors, accentuating the effect of depth and brilliance. This wall mirror is crowned with a large openwork pediment and finished at the bottom with a matching decorative drop, bringing elegance and verticality to the whole. This is a spectacular decorative work, probably from the late 19th or early 20th century, ideal for a classic interior, a majestic entrance or a reception room.
