Description

Mortar with inscription. Bronze. Spain, 1846. Bronze mortar with a flared mouth and a truncated cone-shaped body that expands continuously and whose diameter decreases towards the base. The piece bears an inscription ("soi de don Gregorio goia ano 1846") in capital letters with spaces between them and two areas with lines framing the text in the upper and lower areas, referring to the owner of the mortar and the year it was made. Compare, for example, with the large pharmacy mortar in the Municipal Museum-Archive of Calella (with an inscription, ribs and human heads as handles), a large mortar in the Spanish Pharmacy Museum of the Complutense University of Madrid, etc. - Size: 25x25x30 cm
