Description

A rare and exquisite pair of original 18th-century Baroque still life paintings, each capturing a sumptuous arrangement of flowers and fruit in finely detailed, ornate vases. Executed with remarkable precision and depth, these compositions embody the rich visual language of the Baroque era--dramatic contrast, lifelike textures, and symbolic abundance. Each painting features an array of grapes, peaches, apples, and florals arranged with elegant balance and naturalistic detail, set against a dark ground to heighten their luminosity. these works present beautifully and remain in fine condition for their Unsigned, but stylistically aligned with Northern European still life traditions of the late 18th century. A superb acquisition for collectors of antique fine art or curators seeking authentic
