Description

Superb pair of Japanese compositions on paper depicting koi carp swimming among the clouds, traditional symbols of strength, courage and perseverance in Japanese culture. Executed in a refined monochrome wash, these poetic scenes delicately blend black ink and subtle gradations. The upper part of each work is enhanced with cursive calligraphy accompanied by a red stamp (hanko), a seal authenticating the artist's hand. Japanese work from the mid-20th century (circa 1950-1970). Simple and elegant period wooden frame. Very good general condition, some tiny marks of time. Dimensions (including frames): 36x53cm
