

Le Tallec. Porcelain Box. Circa 1967

Description

Le Tallec.  Oval box in white porcelain with an oval shape and a flat bottom, the hinged lid is slightly domed; The box has a stylized scroll ornamentation painted in Bordeaux color on the belly and which is associated with the decoration of a bouquet of wild flowers on the lid. The edges of the lid and body are set in a gilded metal frame decorated with a frieze of waves, the lid grip is in the shape of a scallop shell. Signed by the painter on the bottom, initials FE. Made in 1967. Length: 8.7 cm Width: 5.8 cm Height: 5.2 cm Perfect condition It was in 1928 that Camille Le Tallec, a young graduate of the École du Louvre, created his own porcelain decoration workshop in the 20th arrondissement of Paris. The venue's reputation quickly grew, and the entrepreneur's collaborations with renowned brands multiplied,

165 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Parfait état

Material : Porcelain

Length : 8,7 cm

Width : 5,8 cm

Height : 5,2 cm

Dealer

Lucas L&E

Argenterie ancienne, Arts liturgiques, Arts Russes, Arts de la tables

Mobile : 0615687757

Maisons-Laffitte 78600

such as his partnership with the Puitforcat brand, now owned by the Hermès group. In 1991, Tiffany & Co., seeking to meet the growing demand of its customers, acquired Atelier Le Tallec. The excellent reputation of the Parisian manufacturer, as well as the reduction in the number of industries dedicated to artisanal porcelain painting, made this choice an obvious one for the American jeweler.