Description

Yvette Lichtfus (1925-2014) Belgian Painter Originally from Arlon, where she was born in 1925, Yvette Lichtfus established herself as a prominent figure in 20th-century Belgian painting. Trained at the Academy of Fine Arts in Brussels, she developed a rigorous artistic sensibility under the guidance of the Antwerp painter Prosper de Wit. Her talent was quickly recognized, and her early exhibitions, beginning in the late 1940s, laid the foundation for a steady career, acclaimed by both the public and critics. Lichtfus cultivated a pictorial vision rooted in the observation of nature, standing apart from the avant-garde experiments of her time. She embraced a fidelity to the motif and to direct sensory experience, in a style that evokes Impressionism while maintaining a restrained and
