

An Egyptologist's Notebook

350 EUR

Period : 21st century

Condition : Etat d'usage

Material : Paper

Description

This notebook, kept by an Egyptologist, documents in a structured manner observations and analyses related to hieroglyphic writing. It combines transcriptions, translations, cross-references to Egyptological sources, as well as lexical and grammatical elements. The use of different inks and marginal annotations testify to an evolving and methodical work. The content suggests an in-depth study of terms relating to religion, royalty, and the social organization of ancient Egypt. This document, a true object of curiosity, is part of a philological and iconographic research approach of an Egyptology enthusiast.

Dealer

Collection éclectique

Objets inspirés de l'antique - souvenirs du grand tour - curiosités

Mobile : 0698227977

Paris 75016