Description

document holder, or Napoleon III bedside table in mahogany wood, of beautiful quality! the decorative mouldings are with a wooden core covered in brass (particular workmanship of the time), the piece of furniture is from the center, that is, the back part is like the other sides, so it can be used in the center of the room, also suitable to be placed next to a desk, or as a living room furniture next to sofas, or as a bedside table in the bedroom.the piece of furniture was restored at our laboratory, and the leather of the upper surface was replaced, the piece of furniture apparently has 3 drawers, but there are 2 drawers, so the last one is very deep because there are 1 in two.It has a disappearing top, as you can see from the photo, this top can be made to appear both on the right and left, instead the upper surface
