Description

Large and impressive Polyphon music box, made in Leipzig at the end of the 19th century by the Polyphon company, famous for its large-scale production. Double comb models are highly sought after for the finesse and richness of their sound. This model of box is exceptional: it has never been seen before and does not appear in any known reference catalogs. It is therefore a rare and valuable piece for collectors. There is a drawer at the bottom of the box, containing a disc. There is no key available for this drawer and we do not wish to force the lock. The sale includes 11 discs diameter 40cm. Please also see the video, which is an integral part of the description.
