Description

Andreas Gyula Bubarnik (Hungarian 1936-2010) Still Life of an ivory tankard, wine glasses, lemon, grapes, and strawberries, oil on wood panel, apparently unsigned (unexamined out of frame), mounted in a gilt moulded composition frame. We rate this artist extremely highly, as good as or even better than many of the 17th-century Dutch still life painters of the "Golden Age" who were his inspiration. A master of soft light, the immensely high degree of realism has been achieved by other artists but few have come anywhere near Bubarnik's ability to create depth through perspective and light. MEASUREMENTS: Sight (visible painting): Height: 38cm (15in) Width: 28.5cm (11.2in) Frame: Height: 50.5cm (19.9in) Width: 40.5cm (15.9in) CONDITION:: In very good condition. No issues. Ready to hang.BIOGRAPHY: Andreas Gyula Bubarnik was born in 1936 in a small town close to Budapest in Hungary and raised on his family farm. Through following his interest in art history and techniques, he developed an exceptional realist style. Never indulging in self-promotion, little is known about the artist. He has allowed his work to speak for itself.Shipping: Free to most
