Description

This is a very rare teak wall lamp by Ruprecht Skrip (1917-1969). The two stems of different lengths can be moved individually, allowing them to be used in many different ways. The mechanism is ball-jointed with two counterweights. This is an iconic piece for a living room, it can be used as a standard wall lamp, but also for reading and to hang over an armchair. This wall lamp is in its original, natural, untouched condition, preserved from time. The electricity is old, so it should be reviewed for safety reasons. We note small friction and traces of wear due to time. Everything is original, including the lampshades. Our photos allow you to appreciate the quality of the object. For the condition, please detail the photos. Do not hesitate to zoom. The photos are an integral part
