Description

Origin: FlandersPeriod: 17th centuryMaterials: Wood, oil on panel, solid silver, mirrorsOverall dimensions: 160 x 62 x 36 cmCabinet dimensions (without stand): 55 x 49 x 28 cmAn exceptional 17th-century Flemish cabinet, a high-quality piece of furniture that combines the mastery of Flemish cabinetmaking with the pictorial refinement of the Nordic Baroque. The structure is decorated with a series of original oil paintings on wooden panels, in excellent condition. The scenes depict mythological motifs centered on the figure of Cupid, executed with great delicacy and chromatic richness. The handles and decorative side plates, in solid silver, stand out, reinforcing the luxurious and exclusive character of the work. The cabinet retains its original key, which opens both the central doors and the lower drawer. The top cover has no lock. Inside, a small door is hidden, revealing an architectural scene: a room in perspective with a geometric floor, columns and mirrored walls, evoking the visual games and taste for scenography of the time. A very rare piece, coveted by collectors of antique furniture, Flemish art and objects with original paintings on furniture.
