Description

Elegant set of 8 stemmed glasses in blown glass, made by the famous Biot glassworks in the South of France. These glasses feature a beautiful bottle green hue, typical of Biot's work, and are characterized by the air bubbles included in the material, an emblematic signature of the workshop. Each piece is mouth-blown, offering subtle variations that give them all their artisanal charm. Their generous shape and flared base make them ideal pieces while bringing a warm, vintage touch to your table. A must-have for lovers of vintage tableware and French artisanal glassware.
