Description

Persian carpet Tehran, 210x150 cm, Iran

Ancient Persian carpet, saccadè size, hand knotted with coork wool and cotton weft. Very fine workmanship: 60,000 stitches/m².

Persian carpets like this one are considered the most valuable among hand-knotted carpets; the very elaborate workmanship, which requires great experience and skill, and the very long Persian tradition in carpet knotting make them very precious. They are characterized by very fine knotting and the quality of the knot that makes them robust and durable. The thin and tight knot also allows for the creation of the characteristic elaborate ornaments, rich in details.
