Description

This friendly dog is a poodle that carries in its mouth a device composed of a basket with two compartments in woven gold metal, inside which are housed two bottles with their caps. Its use may not be definitive, however, I am leaning towards two perfume bottles to be placed on a dressing table. However, there are traces of ink in the bottles and perhaps it was originally an inkwell. So, let's say that we are dealing with a versatile poodle. The bottles have their original emery caps, first half of the 20th century. Shipping in France and internationally, contact me for terms and conditions
