Description

This refined mirror, dating from the second half of the 19th century, perfectly embodies the elegance and sophistication of the Louis XVI style. Its giltwood frame highlights a beveled mirror, demonstrating the attention to detail specific to this period. The projecting frame is enhanced by a delicate frieze of pearls and oves, emblematic motifs of the neoclassical style. These ornaments give the mirror a harmonious aesthetic, combining architectural rigor and decorative finesse. The pediment is a true masterpiece in itself. In the purest Louis XVI tradition, it displays two branches of ribboned flowers that join to form a crown, a symbol of elegance and refinement. Two floral garlands embrace the mirror, gracefully framing the reflection and amplifying the majesty of the
