

Antique French 19th Century Rose-cut Diamond Ring

1 890 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Gold

Description

Enhance your collection with this rare 19th-century French ring, a reflection of Victorian refinement. Crafted in 18K (750?) gold, it features a delicate floral motif whose center is set with eleven finely cut rose-cut diamonds, creating a timeless "daisy" cluster. Each of these diamonds radiates a soft, romantic sparkle typical of ancient techniques. The tapered shoulders highlight the central ornament while ensuring comfortable wear all day long. Ideal as a distinctive engagement ring, an heirloom piece, or a thoughtful addition to a collection of antique jewelry, this creation perfectly combines historical authenticity and measured luxury. Its versatile design pairs equally well with vintage-inspired outfits and contemporary styles.

Technical sheet Period: 19th century (French

Dealer

vmb satti
estate jewelry
Mobile : 0687384021

Montmorency 95160

Victorian era) Style: Floral cluster / daisy Metal:
18K (750 ‰) yellow gold Metal weight: 5.32 g
Stones: 11 rose-cut diamonds, total ‰ 0.60 ct Size:
FR 58 / US 8¼ Resizing: Possible on request Origin: France Condition: Excellent vintage condition, slight patina of use consistent with age