Description

Antique Directional Sign "EINGANG" - German Industrial Charm, Authentic Spirit
Let yourself be seduced by this authentic antique wooden sign, hand-painted, bearing the inscription "EINGANG" (entrance in German), in a robust and uncompromising typographic style, typical of mid-20th century industrial signage. A piece steeped in history
This directional arrow would have long indicated the entrance to a craftsman's workshop near Leipzig, in East Germany.
Suspended above a cobblestone alley, it has seen generations of workers pass by, wheelbarrows of metal, rickety bicycles and clogs full of sawdust. A discreet witness to an era when things were made to last, it has survived the years with an irresistible patina of time: worn edges, cracked paint, original metal hooks... Nothing is fake
