Description

Rare preparatory drawing for a high jewelry set in gold, amethysts and coral, 1985. Gouache on tracing paper, signed and dated. The title is inscribed on the back of the frame: "Smile of amethyst and pink coral". Philippe Deloison was a designer for the greatest jewelers of Place Vendôme, such as Van Cleef & Arpels, Bulgari and Cartier. But also for celebrities like Johnny Hallyday. His gouache sketches, the origin of his jewelry, brilliantly capture the creativity, thought and process of creating these luxurious and precious treasures. Many galleries and museums, such as the EAC, the Espace de l'Art Concret and Mouans-Sartoux, have already exhibited the work of Philippe Deloison. The sheet measures approximately 29.5 x 20 cm. We offer another sketch by Deloison in our other objects.
