

PROANTIC
LE PLUS BEAU CATALOGUE D'ANTIQUITES

Two Blue And White Monkey And Deer Porcelain Saucers - China Late Ming Dynasty

1 500 EUR

Period : 17th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Porcelain

Diameter : 16cm

Description

A pair of porcelain saucers with blue and white decoration of a deer, a monkey and a bird in flight near a pine tree. China, Late Ming dynasty Wanli/Tianqi period (1573-1627). Although this decoration exists under the Wanli and Tianqi periods, particularly for the Japanese export (Ko-Sometsuke), these small dishes could possibly be from the Jiajing period, as the dots in the blue decoration are more indicative of the painting style of the period. They are more commonly seen without this unusual border. Diameter: 16cm (right) / 16.1cm (left). For a similar set in the centre but without the border decoration, see : - Christies, The Peony Pavillion Collection, 12 June 1989, lot 294. Both saucers have chips, small splinters and areas of sintering. The one on the right, chips, frits, and

Dealer

Galerie Drake

Chinese Porcelain & Chinese Works of Art

Mobile : 0689483023

32 Avenue de la République

Paris 75011

two short translucent hairlines. The one on the left also has a single hairline. More information and photos on request.