Description

Rich in period character, this 19th-century Victorian "Duchess" ring features a subtly radiant baroque pearl set on an old-cut diamond (~0.10 ct) flanked by delicate rose-cut diamond accents. Crafted in 18K (750?) yellow gold, it reveals sinuous scrolls and an openwork gallery that celebrate the romantic aesthetic of the Victorian era. Perfect for collectors of antique baroque pearl jewelry or authentic Victorian diamond rings, it combines historical charm with expert jewelry making. Technical specifications Ring size: FR 51 (US 5¼) - resizable upon request Metal: 18K (750?) yellow gold Stones: 1 × freshwater baroque pearl 1 × old-cut diamond, approx. 0.10 ct Accents: Rose-cut diamonds Period: Victorian, mid-late 19th century (circa 1860-1890) Style: Duchess ring - ornate
