Description

Important corner piece of furniture to hang called corner shelf, polylobed shape in cherry wood inlaid with stylized foliage in olive veneer, maple burl and natural and stained elm. This one is presented in three distinct parts; composed of two curved shelves, upper and lower with curved sides and openwork of voluble cartouches, centered on a closed quarter-circle locker opening with a leaf, condemned by its original lock. This piece of furniture bears the joint stamps of Pierre and Jean-François Hache which allows to date it from the years 1760-1765. Period when Pierre Hache acquired new buildings place Claveyson in order to install his son Jean-François there very close to his own workshop. This proximity of two independent workshops responded to more convenience for their collaboration. Indeed,
