Description

Brass coffee table from the 1970s, Italian manufacture, beautiful, size 130 x 75 cm, height 33 cmthe glass is still the original one and shows small signs of usein the 70s, brass was taken into great consideration for the creation of furniture, which continues to be the case today, but with high costs due to the material but above all to the workmanship, the welds must be invisible so there is a long and expensive work cycle, if a coffee table like this were to be made now it would cost more than the originalfor this coffee table there is a request of 650.00 euros
